

Innovation for Growth

Press release February 29, 2012

Prevas continues expansion with new office in Jönköping, Sweden

Prevas has been helping other companies rapidly grow and develop by means of innovative solutions ever since the company was founded in 1985. Prevas was one of the fastest growing consulting firms in Sweden in 2011, and Dagens Industri, a trade magazine, named Prevas one of the 2012 "Career Companies". Prevas has now opened a new office in Jönköping.

Prevas plans to continue expanding, and the company's recently opened office in Jönköping (Sweden) is part of the operations that belong to Linköping. Prevas' vision is to supply businesses in the region with cutting-edge expertise within industrial IT and embedded systems.

"We recognize excellent opportunities for expansion in our two main business areas, Product Development and Industrial Systems. Establishing an office in Jönköping will allow us to strengthen our relationship with existing customers in the region, and at the same time we have better opportunities to solicit new customers," says Robert Majanen, who is in charge of the new Prevas office start-up.

Prevas now has 16 offices in Sweden, and is established in Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Germany, the United Arab Emirates and India.

Industry is faced with major challenges. No matter what they make, there is generally another player somewhere else in the world prepared to do the same thing, both quicker and less expensively. To survive and grow, companies are constantly forced to develop new and smarter products and production methods. Or to get help with the task. We do everything we can to find effective solutions for our customers. If we can contribute to increasing their level of competitiveness, we have achieved our goal – to create sustainable growth.
